PHOENIX CHAPTER PICNIC

On Friday Oct. 14th, the day before our picnic on Saturday, we had a record day of rainfall. 5th in history for one day. There was a little over two inches of rain not to mention the hail and high winds. Needless to say we arose on Saturday morning and cautiously peeked out the windows. Not a cloud could be seen !!! The day turned out beautiful.

The picnic was well attended. We only wish a lot more of our friends would have joined the fun. There were lots of Grandparents showing off their Grandchildren and comparing notes. The sack races were lots of fun for all the kids, young and old. There was also volley ball, horse shoes and several other games of skill to add to the entertainment. Silver dollars were given for prizes and fun was had by all.

We stuffed ourselves with food and drinks but were unable to eat all the food people brought. The Phoenix Chapters Social events for this year are over. We are looking forward to another great year in 1989. We would like to see more people come and participate, be a chairman of one of the committees or just join the fun.

A big "THANK YOU" to all the people who helped make the picnic a success.

PHOENIX CHAPTER GENERAL MEETING

By: Marie MacGill

Vice President Lew Frazier was acting President for Dave Conner who was away at our November 12th meeting.

Newt Grefenson led the Pledge of Alligance to the Flag.

We met some interesting people when the introductions were made. We appreciate your presence and hope that you will return soon.

The reading of the minutes were dispensed with. Treasurer Belle Taylor's report was accepted as read.

Mary Reinert of membership said we gained eleven new members and lost ten old ones giving us a total of 843. Sick bay report was Mary Reinert with a broken thumb close to her wrist. She was on her way to church about two weeks ago and fell on pavement and did not make it to church. She still has some pain in it and is looking forward to having the cast removed. Sorry Mary. We hope you will soon have full recovery.

The main topic of sick bay is that Pancho, our Fish cleaner at Cholla Bay was bitten twice by the same rattle snake and is in the Hospital in Rocky Point. They say he is partly Paralyzed, but doctors say he will recover. He has ocured enormous Hospital bills, plus loosing all from his Fish cleaning; therefore he needs our help to pay at least part of his bills. It was asked that if any of us can afford at least a few dollars to defray these expenses to please leave what ever you can with Pattie at her store, or give it to some of the club officers. He has been cleaning fish for us for many years and has cleaned the fish for our Fish Fry. Don't you think that would be a kind deed to show our appreciation? THANKS.

Wayne Kudis didn't have a Search and Rescue report.

Sharon (Chatter) Allen told us she is very disturbed that people are moving and do not give her a change of address. She has been getting phone calls and nasty letters about not getting their Chatter. She said that after all she does not know where to send it if they do not let her know, so she said to PLEASE, PLEASE GIVE HER A CHANGE OF ADDRESS IF YOU MOVE. THANKS, THANKS

Sue Kudis couldn't make to the meeting, but is still asking for canned beans and corn and toys and what ever you might have for the Christmas boxes. Thanks.

We will be anxious to get the report on the October picnic. We know it is always fun.

We were all pleased when it was announced that Joe and Roma Blunks Grand-daughter Pumpkin (Veronica) Blunk will be a candidate for Queen of the Black and White Ball that will be held in Rocky Point. She is a beautiful young lady of Seventeen and we are happy to have her. Seems only yesterday that she was a little girl skipping around with Granma and Grandad Blunk.

I didn't mean to leave out Ship's Store. and will say that Deanne and Gene Miller were away on vacation. Sara McWhorter and Arlene Martindid a nice job taking over for them. They had lots of goodies on sale, including Shrimp Peelers for 1.00. They had tee shirts for $4.00 each.

The people of Cholla Bay and are Home Owners do not like to be charged a fee to enter Sandy Beach.

Mr. Rick Elder of Cabin #70 which is the first big white house on your left as you enter Cholla Bay wants to get together with the person in charge to get the fee removed for us Home Owners. He said he has been going to the Bay for over 25 years and does not feel that it is fair to pay to go to Sandy Beach. He said he is going to have 1,000 stickers made to put on person and auto to show that we are residents or that is own our homes. He said he is going to pay for the stickers, but don't you think we that can should chip in and pay part of the expense? Thanks a lot Rick, and thanks for attending the meetings.

A Trip to Remember

Day 1: Early Friday morning, Sept. 30, 17 adventurous people traveling in 5 Jeeps, 2 pickup trucks and a Suzuki Samarai gathered at Vasquez's Store in Sonoyta for a three-day trip to Caborca, Puerto Lobos, Desemboque and back to Cholla Bay. They were Dave "Mark Twain" Bennett, Wayne "Water Pusher" Wynn, Bill "Sandpebble" and Ellen "Ms. Ellie" Coughlin, John "Taco Belle" and Marilyn "Taco Grande" Robson, Wayne "Hustler" and Sue "Mama K" Kudis, Butch "Bombero" and Billye "Bronco Billye" Wilda, Roger "Blaster" Burge, Richard Burge, Betsy Groupil, Scott "Cruiser" Cramer, Debbie "Smut Puppy" Ludlow, and Marty "Rancho Neglecto" and Arlene Martin.

The food, drinks and ice were loaded in the two pickups and away we went with Dave and Wayne leading the way. Hustler protected our rear. A sight-seeing stop was planned in Caborca. Thanks to Billye's Spanish speaking ability we were able to get a local citizen-caretaker to open the magnificent mission La Purísima Concepcion de Nuestra Señora de Caborca. The mission was begun by Padre Kino in 1693, but the present church was built between 1803 and 1809. The front of the church is riddled with bullet holes from an unauthorized military expedition led by Henry A. Crabbe in 1857. The skull and crossbones over the holy water bowl and the devil's head under it gave us goosebumps and mystified us all. Maybe someone reading this can tell us why these symbols were used in the church. A museum, of sorts, was in an annex building, and contained relics of the early mission days, and a bone as large as an ATC of a mamut, which is Spanish for mammoth.

The first night we camped on a beautiful, clean beach near Puerto Lobos. Riding in open Jeeps through fine powder dust for miles made the sea water very inviting. Now we all had a sticky veneer of salt encrusted on top of the dirt on our bodies. A school of dolphins appeared close-by and entertained us. By now the troops were ravenous. The delicious BBQ beef and macaroni salad the Wilda's prepared in advance was devoured.

Gathering around the fire each evening was truly an inspirational experience. It inspired certain people's deviousness. Seeing that Hustler is longer than his cot, Mama K worried that he would fall off. Not to worry. As he slept duct tape appeared and was wrapped securely around Hustler and his cot. When he awoke he expressed his "gratitude".

Day 2: Dave Bennett was head chef. His cooking was delicious and remarkably sand free. After breakfast everybody packed up and headed for the little town of Puerto Lobos where there is a lighthouse, several Americans' houses and lots of friendly natives. Thanks again to Billye's Spanish we got directions to Desemboque (the hard way). Out in the middle of nowhere in the desert we had to find which left turn to take. After much discussion our intrepid leaders showed us the right one, so we were never lost (for long) thanks to Sandpebble, Water Pusher and Mark Twain. After more dusty roads we came upon an irrigation pump and cement-lined ditch with fresh water. Just what we needed. Out came the soap and shampoo and everyone jumped in. Fun! Fun! Fun!

Saturday afternoon we set up camp on another beautiful beach a few miles from Desemboque. Again, a swim in the sea water was refreshing until these beautiful blue jellyfish chased us out of the water. The next day we could see dozens of them along the shoreline that the tide had stranded.

After the swim we realized we were getting desperate for ice for the drinks, so John and Billye made the long drive back to Desemboque and brought back lots of ice which the locals gave to them free of charge because John bought out the village's supply of scallops. That evening's meal was steak, corn-on-the-cob, a terrific potatoes and onions (with beer) dish and scallops. Dave, Mama K and Ms. Ellie outdid themselves on that meal. Due to the hardships of the trail, Ms. Ellie crashed at sunset each evening.

Billye swears someone poured water in her sleeping bag. Must have been the extraordinarily high humidity. All our sleeping bags were soggy that night. And each night the moon was so bright, there was no need for flashlights when we needed to take a walk behind the dunes. Saturday night turned cold and windy. During the night Taco Grande was seen rummaging in the dark for warmer clothes. Each morning she had tea instead of the mmm-mmm good campfire coffee.

Day 3: After a huge breakfast of steak, eggs, bacon, tortillas, salsa, watermelon and orange juice we headed for St. George's Estuary. We stopped often along the beach to investigate shells, bones, jellyfish, flotsam, jetsam and other beach goodies. Lucky Kudises found a mostly intact skeleton of a dolphin. Even their dog, Blanca, found treasures -- dead birds, dead fish, etc.

Derogatory remarks were made about Rancho Neglecto's Samarai and it was dubbed "rice burner". But, after several grueling tests that it passed with flying colors, one test was when somebody buried it up to its axles and it pulled out without help from any of the tough Jeeps or shoveling with teaspoons, the Samarai is now "rice rocket". Of course, when the hubs are unlocked it doesn't climb quite as well. Thanks, guys!

Scott's pickup was a Nissan, another "rice burner". Debbie helped drive - when she could stay awake - she napped alot, even on roads only a Cat tractor could navigate. Roger, Richard and Betsy rode in a 3/4 ton Ford pickup. The two pickups carried the bulk of the food, drinks and firewood. We couldn't have survived so well without them.

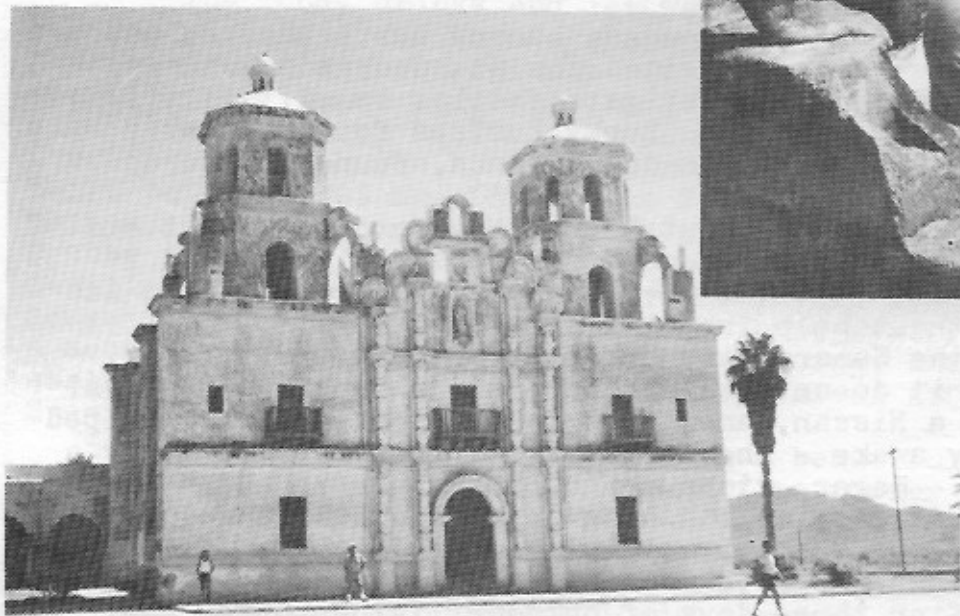

After lunch at Gillespie's Estuary everyone headed home to Cholla Bay and showers, because after three days of outdoor living in the sun, and the dust from the terrible roads we weren't a pretty sight. (or smell)

That evening we all gathered at Kudis' house to finish off the leftover food and view the fascinating video tape Dave had been filming all during the trip. Dave did an "academy award" job of filming. We all agreed it was a trip to remember - lots of fun with a great group of people. Thanks to Sandpebble for a terrific job of organizing everything. We traveled almost 400 miles without an injury. Well, maybe a little one-- Betsy was pinched by a crab.

TUCSON CHAPTER GENERAL MEETING
By Shelly Bock

We had a good turnout at our October 11th meeting. It was great to have so many members attend in such good spirits ready to volunteer for various projects.

Our fearless leader, President Betty Yeates, called the meeting to order with a bit of a southern twang. Bettys got a new member in her family with reddish brown hair. I wonder if he barks with a southern accent.

Hilda Tozzi, our fabulous secretary, read last months meeting minutes. Sammie Rothrock, our treasurer and Elvis Wade groupie (gotcha), gave the treasurers report.

Ships Store, Johnnie on the spot, Johnnie Ahrens is getting ready to order more store items. She's the one to contact if there's something you'd like to purchase or perhaps see added to the stores merchandise.

Membership Chairman, memorable Micky Babbit, said we have 208 members in the Tucson Chapter. Our new members since June are Ed LeGendre, Linda Rakel and Glenn Hotchkiss. So glad to welcome you all to the club. Johnnie Ahrens expressed a desire for new members who are male, single and over fifty. She's getting a bit picky lately dont you think?

Sick Bay. Joan Dernberger said that Pete Scotts mother is in stable condition now. Our hearts and prayers go out to the Scott family.

Our radio man, Alan Peterson, is now a C.B. resident so Greg Skwiat gave us the scoop on the radios. He informed us that one radio is in the shop but all else is fine.

The Christmas Party Chairman, Sue Kudis, who is now residing in Cholla Bay, needs lots of donations for the upcoming party. She's been working very hard to make this years party a success so lets all give her support and help.

Betty Yeates appointed the nominating committee for the November nominations. They are Dean Tozzi, Greg Skwiat, Chuck Dernberger, Sammie Rothrock and Betty Yeates.

Members Mary and Ray Hayes brought as their guest, Tom Foust, who presented an interesting proposal to us. Tom is a member of the Arizona Daily Star Sportsmens Fund. This group raises money to send kids to camp and provide X-Mas gifts for children at the Santa Rosa Ranch School. He proposed that this year the CBSC could pick up the toys donated at the Thanksgiving charity softball tournament. We would then select and wrap the gifts for the Papago school children. All other toys which are numerous would then be ours for the CBSC X-mas party in Cholla Bay. This was a proposition we could not refuse. We unanimously voted to undertake this endeavor. Thank you Tom Foust for this very generous offer.

Christmas Party Raffle Winners:

Betty Yeates - Beautiful glass bowl
Peggy Drake - Ironwood duck (quite appropriate a drake for a Drake)

Door Prize Winners:

Tara Bock - Sports jug
Bob Courtwright - CBSC Jacket
Greg Skwiat - License plate holder

Next months meeting will be held at a location decided upon by Board members at the next board meeting. All club members will be notified of the date, time and place of the November meeting prior to the meeting.

Have a great month.

OLD DOG LEARNS NEW TRICKS

The word from Tempe is that the folks at Sportsman's Clearing House Inc., 1325 W. University Dr., have recently revamped and expanded their SALT WATER DEPARTMENT.

Steve Rothbard, owner of this long-time (19 years) Tempe establishment says "We want to be your source for tackle and supplies for your Sea of Cortez adventures."

For many years Sportsman's Clearing House has stocked salt water tackle and accessories. In fact, in the early 70's, before the energy crunch, they had a pretty extensive selection of Sea of Cortez equipment.

Sportsman's Clearing House has always tried to keep an ear atuned to the needs of the area's sportsmen. It came to their attention through comments from various customers and from their own employees that there was not a place in the Valley that carried a complete selection of quality equipment for the Sea of Cortez, the Pacific Coast, Baja, or long range trips out of San Diego.

The crew at Sportsman's Clearing House (Chuck, Mike, Lee, Walt, Gary and Steve) have all made trips to Mexico on numerous occasions. Several trips to San Diego have also been fruitful both in fish caught and information gathered on the various landings, lodging, charters, and other facilities available on the south Coast. Stop by and pick up brochures and discount coupons before your next trip west.

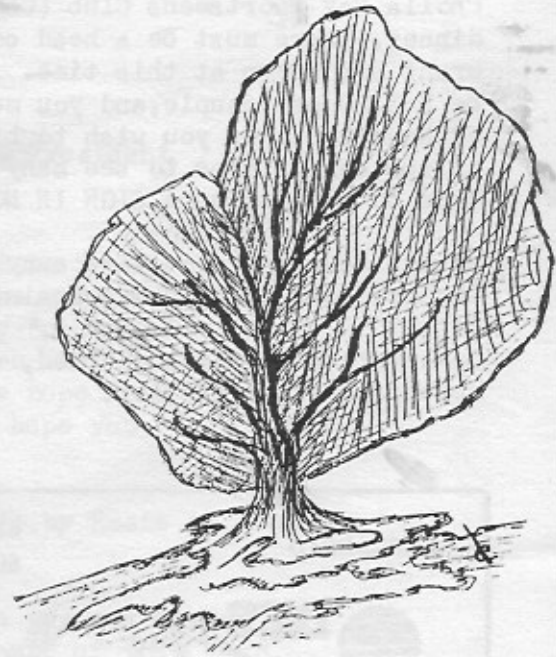

These guys have asked questions of anyone who would listen, both in Mexico and California, and have received some good answers. The results are seen in the variety of tackle in the store.

"We are just in the early stages of expansion", says Steve "and we need your help! Tell us what your favorite tackle is. We need to know what lures, line and accessories you prefer."

"Come by, browse and chat. We will special order your needs if necessary. We also offer "quantity discounts" to volume buyers.

"We want to be your prime source and we will work with you as much as possible."

Before your next trip give Sportsman's Clearing House a visit. They are just off the freeway at Priest and University (just use the 44th St. exit north) in Tempe. Phone (602) 968-7481.

IS YOUR MEXICAN AUTO INSURANCE VALID?

All insurance companies in Mexico MUST charge the same rates and are Governed by the same regulations as established by the Mexico Insurance Commission.

History of Search & Rescue

IT WILL BE THE DUTY OF THE SEARCH & RESCUE TEAM:

To promote and encourage boating safety to the members of the Cholla Bay Sportsmen's Club, and to all fishermen, ashore or afloat, be he club member or not.

To go to the aid of, when possible, boats or persons at Cholla Bay when aid is needed.

To encourage the keeping of safety equipment aboard all boats at Cholla Bay.

To encourage the proper use of the Cholla Bay radio, launching check-out procedures, and the use of the club's grid map.

When you start talking about the origin of Search & Rescue in CBSC, you have to go a long way back and talk about guys like Paul Schoonover who in 1959 saw what was to come and realized the need for ship to shore radio. He started the drive to come up with the money to get it. Bill Blair in 1960 with the help of George Gehon and many others put our first radio on the air. In 1961 Eddie Smith started our checking-out system, and with the help of Wesley Douglas, got our group insurance started with the idea in mind to back up the search efforts if the worst should happen.

This was the foundation Search & Rescue was built on. In 1962-63 the radio and check-out system were improved upon, but up to this point there really wasn't any organized search and rescue team. Most depended on the buddy system, or if a boat didn't get back, whoever was handy and would go did the job that had to be done.

In 1964 and 1965 the Phoenix Coast Guard Auxiliary, Flotilla No. 85, with Ray (Sonny) Kraft as operations officer, took over the job of search and rescue chairman for the club. Ray, Katherine Hitchcock and other Coast Guard Auxiliary personnel did a fine job. On July 4th, 1965, Ray Kraft asked to be relieved of his chairmanship and Wes Douglas took over the chairmanship and finished out the year, doing a bang-up job. In 1966 Dick Miller of Phoenix and Chris Tatum of Tucson were appointed as co-chairmen of the radio committee to give Matt Cubitto a hand as more and more demand was placed on the radio, and in 1966 Dick Miller took over search and rescue operations.

In February 1966, Dick Miller, Dan Kenny and Mel Jarvis talked over the idea of setting up a search and rescue team within the club manned by club members and with the idea of a safety program to teach the new members coming into the club safety while at the Bay, and also to ask the club for money to get it started. In March of that year Mel Jarvis asked the Phoenix Board for $100 to be set aside for search and rescue and that the proceeds of the miss-made pennants be put into the fund also, to help build the fund for search and rescue.

Search & Rescue was on its way. All through the year 1966, Dan Kenny, Dick Miller, Ferd Esenwein, Mel Jarvis and many others were hard at work improving the radio, trying out new ideas, like flying kites with antenna wire hooked to a balloon and a small GE generator to send out a signal to our search plane. Then they tried to get radio contact with Phoenix by way of Ajo with CAP radio as relay... We finally got Council to authorize new radio equipment. Ferd Esenwein finished the Search & Rescue map and it's still in use.

In 1967 Mel Jarvis took over the chairmanship of Search & Rescue; he made the team's guild book and by-laws, meetings were held and ideas were exchanged, and the team started to show its stuff as a team with the rescue of "Wee Two," and many others after that. Also in the years 1966-67 we had the air search arm of the team in full swing, with Dan Kenny as Search & Rescue pilot. Then we added the 24-hour phone watch, thanks to Harold Niles of Niles Radio Corporation in Phoenix and Tucson; a call from Rocky Point or the border and Search & Rescue was alerted and on its way any hour of the day or night.

Bob Blackridge and Bob Cullens of Tucson and Clint Yates and Harold Niles of Phoenix are now Search & Rescue pilots for the club and have flown many hours of search for us.

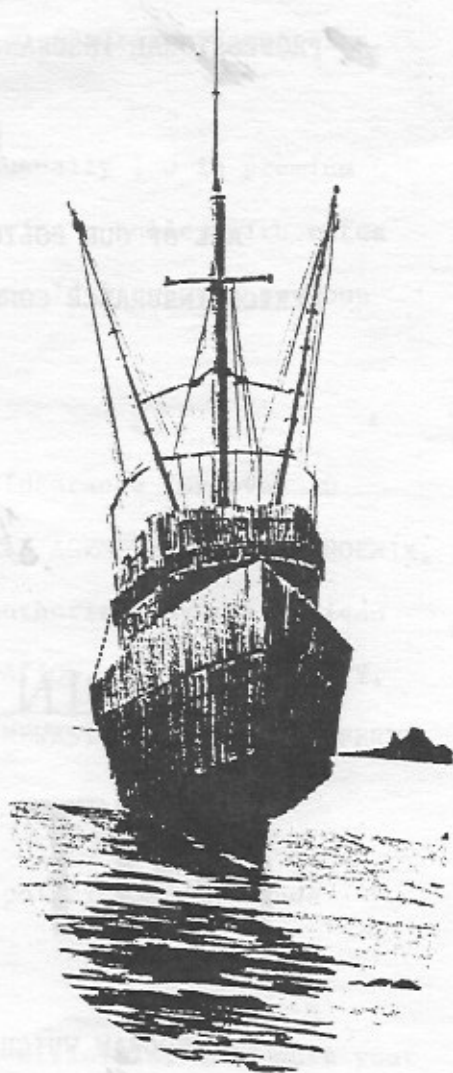

Also about this time S&R and the radio got a new home as the trailer was moved onto its slab. Patty, now a veteran operator, was placed on the Search & Rescue team and was the switch that put Search & Rescue in gear. All she did is appreciated, and Ramon too - all the hard work and long hours they gave us.

In 1968 Lyle Rogers headed up S&R and he had his work cut out for him. That year with the help of Bob Parnell, Harry Capen and Bub Allison, the homing lights were installed on Capen's cabin and the blue range lights were installed on the radio shack. Lyle had some near misses, like the McDowell and Freyise rescues, but Lyle came through the year with flying colors.

In 1969 Bob Parnell of Phoenix and Frank Zimmerman of Tucson took S&R chairmanship in hand and did a great job. Council came up with more operating money, a portable radio, and equipment for sandbuggies.

The team has been headed up by Mel Jarvis in 1970, 1971 and 1972; there have been many rescues and a lot of hard work, long hours at sea towing and searching, lost fishing time, sleepless nights knowing that someone is out there and helpless until they are found. To put down each of the searches the team has made and the effort each man has put into Search & Rescue would take a ton of paper. S&R has done and is doing what it set out to do: promote safety and encourage the carrying of safety equipment on the boats that fish at Cholla... and to be there to help when needed.

PENASCO 150-OCTOBER 15, 1988

ADRA held this 150 mile off road car race in the area around Black Mountain. On this rainy day Jim Huff (Plum Krazy) and Bill Coughlin (Sandpebble) came up to the starting line ready for a few hours of real excitement. As the race progressed it was becoming clear that some of the competition were having mechanical problems and by the time that Plum Krazy got into lap 4 of the 5 lap race parts of the course were also becoming very slippery. Plum Karzy won Class 4 and placed 9th overall in the Pro Division with a total of 40 starters in all Pro Classes.

CONGRATULATIONS PLUM KRAZY
